SUGAR LEGISLATION RECEIVES SETBACK; VOTE TO EXTEND U. S. BOARD'S CONTROL NOT REACHED

Managers of Bill Doubtful of Its Enactment Before Proposed Holiday Recess of Congress.

Washington, Dec. 18.—Sugar legislation received another setback in the senate today when advocates of the bill to extend federal sugar control and licensing during 1920 were unable, because of protracted opposition debate, to bring to a vote the house amendments broadening the powers proposed for the United States Equalization board.

Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, again sought the senate concurrence in house amendments to the bill when the senate convened, hoping for a vote before the railroad bill came up. Senator Ransdell, democrat, Louisiana, led the fight against the house amendments in the debate that followed, which prevented a vote.

He declared the bill proposed to inflict "awful punishment" on the sugar industry alone. The senator held the floor during the entire hour and a half allotted by unanimous consent for consideration of the bill.

Managers of the sugar bill planned to send it to conference and were doubtful of its enactment before the proposed holiday recess of congress.

Senator Smoot interrupted Senator Ransdell to present late trade statistics giving Cuban sugar quotations, which indicated a falling market, but said, with a crop "more than sufficient for American demands by February."

The sugar legislation, Senator Cav. democrat, Louisiana, said, would force the sugar board to buy at falling prices if enacted. He also proposed normal conditions by February.

Attorney General Palmer was asked in a resolution passed today by the house to report by what authority he fixed 17 and 18 cents as the price for the Louisiana sugar crop. Representative Tinkham said living costs had increased $24,000,000 because of this price fixing.

Arbitrary Price Protection. Objection was made by republicans to an arbitrary price of 17 cents for 10 or 11 cents for best sugar, while the price of Louisiana cane crop was fixed at 17 cents for yellow cane and 18 cents for granulated. The attorney general has also refused to permit restoration of the price of any commodity. Representative Tinkham said.

Representatives said private interests offered from 25 to 27 cents a pound for the Louisiana sugar crop, while the price of Louisiana cane crop was fixed at 17 cents for yellow cane and 18 cents for granulated. The attorney general has also refused to permit restoration of the price of any commodity. Representative Tinkham said.

DEMOCRATS CALLED TO ELECT LEADER TO SUCCEED MARTIN

Senators Hitchcock and Underwood in Contest For Place.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, Dec. 18.—A call for a conference of democratic senators Saturday to select a leader to succeed the late Senator Martin, Virginia, was issued today by Senator Hitchcock, Nebraska, who is contesting with Senator Underwood, Alabama, for the place.

Friends of Senator Underwood indicated they might endeavor to postpone a vote until after the holidays when the full democratic membership is expected to be present. The action of Senator Hitchcock, who is vice chairman of the democratic caucus, today was widely indicated to his friends that he felt confident of winning.

Senators Hitchcock and Underwood have differed regarding future procedure, the former opposing and the latter agreeing to accept as a last alternative the plan of Senator Knox, republican, Nebraska, who proposed that the league of nations covenant, which would be left for future consideration.

AVERAGE AMERICAN INDIFFERENT TO CIVIC DUTIES SAYS WOOD

Agitator Usurps Functioning of Local Governments, Is Charge.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Denver, Col., Dec. 18.—The marked indifference of the average American toward the performance of his civic duties and the willingness of the red alien and the agitator to usurp the functioning of the local government in many sections of the nation, are important factors in the wave of unrest which is sweeping the nation, Maj. Gen. Leonard A. Wood told the members of Colorado legislature in joint session here today.

"We have been attributing much of our unrest to the ranks of labor," said General Wood, "but during my recent travels through the nation I have learned that 95 percent of the American working men are straight but that in many instances they are under the influence of the agitators, who are responsible for most of the unrest.

"The remedy that can be most effectively applied right now is a strict supervision of the immigration. If we will take the foreigner in hand as soon as he leaves Ellis Island, we will be able to control the influence which the radicals soon exert over him, and this manner instill into the newcomers the principles of real Americanism."

"The American Legion can be looked upon as a bulwark in the nation's industrial life, and to the members of the legion is going to be delegated the task of suppressing the unreasonable activities of the rabid alien in event no other means of suppressing him can be found."

An adequate and modern hotel.
A community building containing an auditorium, woman's rest room, and memorial hall for soldiers, sailors and nurses.
Traffic regulations which will reduce danger on streets to the minimum.
A street car service which will answer the needs of an increasing population.
Improved streets in the city and better roads in the county.
A survey of the housing situation with a view of discouraging exorbitant rentals for both rooms and houses.
Careful appraisal of property, particularly that of those who have increased their rentals, so that they may pay their fair share of the taxes.
A livestock pavilion at the fair grounds to be used in promoting the county's endeavor to take first place in the state as a stock producing center.
An indoor recreation center in which dances and sporting events may be held.
More parks and playgrounds for use of the entire community.
Protected ice-skating rinks for children.

EASE MAKES HIGH COSTS
Reaction from the stimulus which the war gave to production was to be expected. It was realized. But the war ended more than a year ago. Is it not time for the pendulum to swing the other way? By now everybody should be sufficiently recovered from the fatigues of forced effort to put forth the maximum of normal endeavor. If they did current restlessness would swiftly come to an end.

Complaints about the high cost of living would cease with a reduction of costs. There is a vast amount of work to do. There are enormous numbers of workmen employed. The trouble is too many of them are working idly, wastefully. They and all others have to pay the excessive bill thus rolled up.

In contributing to a canvass of the national industrial condition, W. W. Atterbury, vice-president of the Pennsylvania railroad, gives some illuminating figures. As reported by the New York Sun, he says:
The Pennsylvania railroad today has in its employ 168,892 persons, as against 147,718 before we went into the war, on an increase of 14 percent. At the same time the traffic units fell from 15,500,000,000 to 15,000,000,000, or a reduction of 3 percent in the business. Fourteen percent more men did 11 percent less work. Or, expressing it in a little different way, it took 127 men in 1919 to do the work of 100 men in 1917.

During the early part of 1917 we were on a 10-hour basis. During 1919 we have been on an eight-hour basis. A 20 percent reduction in time alone, had we worked with exactly the same effort that we did in 1917, would have moved in an eight-hour day 91,845 units. As a matter of fact there were moved only 58,308 units.

In shop work, as records show, Mr. Atterbury says that, due to the reduction of piece work of employment, and the abolition of piece work, production has been reduced so that output per man is now only 60 percent of what it was in 1917. "In other words, it takes 10 men to do the work six men did before the war."

It is a fair assumption that Mr. Atterbury cites no isolated instances. There is ample evidence that reduced efforts are general. The consequences are incalculable. From them the country suffers today. It will continue to suffer until there is a change of spirit on the part of the workers. And the latter will have to bear their just proportion of the burden.

A STOCK PAVILION.
A meeting is going to be held at the court house Saturday to discuss plans for providing a stock pavilion at the Fair Grounds. Those back of the move are stock breeders who see the necessity for a suitable place to show their products to the hundreds who come to Rock county every year to look over our wares.

This community has a reputation throughout the United States for producing high grade stock and in the last year's shipments of purchases have been made to nearly every state in the union. Those who have formed breeders' associations have worked hard to keep the stock up to standard and to place it before the public to advantage. They should have the encouragement of the entire county. City men and farmer should get behind them in this project of obtaining a pavilion in which to show animals offered for sale.

When the stockmen meet Saturday, Janesville should have representatives present to lend any aid necessary to start preliminary plans.

A NATIONAL GUARD COMPANY.
Many other cities of the state have taken steps to organize national guard companies. Some already have their units organized and ready for drill. Janesville veterans of the Great War have been called together at a smoker to be given at the Armory tonight to discuss plans for organization. A captain has been commissioned who is ready to lead in the work of organization. Business men, have given assurance of their co-operation. The city should have a national guard company and now is the time to organize it.
Company M made a proud record in the war. We should perpetuate its memory of having an organization as alert, clean and serviceable as those fellows who served their country and left such a splendid reputation. Every fellow who wishes to join as well as those who are interested in the plan to organize should attend that smoker.

SAVING THE WORLD.
Nobody in the world is going to starve to death on account of the greedy grip of a remorseless trust on the rough diamond supply. Odd conceit, that, is it not? Of course nobody ever starved to death for lack of diamonds. But some might. If Charlotte, the Chic Chocolate Dipper, were deprived of her sparks on the night of the swell dance it is not beyond reason, as a modern mind might conclude, that she would be so humiliated she could not eat. Thence by logical mental steps you follow her to the grave. Thrilling and terrible, you say, and you agree with you.
But it is not to be. The diamond trust has visualized the possibilities and set an example to the milk man, the coal man and others who are likewise purveyors of the necessities of life. Anything that anyone wants is

CHRISTMAS.
When Christmas comes I'd like to be Old Santa Claus and travel far
To all my friends, and trim a tree
For them no matter where they are.
I'd like to give my heart full swing
To shape its wishes into deeds
And do for everyone the thing
His happiness most sorely needs.

When Christmas comes I'd like to fill
The lives of all with joy and peace;
I'd like to go where men are ill
And quickly make their sufferings cease.
I'd like to smooth the troubled brow
Of every trace of inward care
And press the furrows out somehow
And leave but love and laughter there.
I'd like to help the youth to climb
And bring the sailor home from sea,
To write in deeds this feeble rhyme
And be the man I'd like to be.
Had I the power for just one night
The wants of others to attend,
I'd change all grief into delight
And carry peace to every friend.

But since I have no magic gift
To change what is of grief or care
Or from their weary hearts to lift
The weight of woes which may be there,
I can but pray that God above
Shall guard my friends from day to day
And bless them with his boundless love
And keep them safe along life's way.

A necessity these days. Everybody wants diamonds and most everybody can pay for them except people on salary, and they are not to be pitied even.
To prevent injustice in the distribution of diamonds a central station has been established in London. From there the suffering public will be supplied, not at famine prices, but at such terms as the traffic will bear, as we understand the scheme.

Price lists are to be revised tri-monthly, which may be fairer than the monthly revision of milk prices. Here is real public service, don't you think? At all events we are thus reminded that any producers who wish sincerely to relieve the ills of the people may do so. The Diamond Trust is indeed a public benefactor; which may not be as unprofitable a vocation as some have imagined.

President Poincare disappoints political opponents by confessing he has no thought of retiring so long as he has great ideas which he feels honored in being permitted to place at his country's service.

There are only two, and not the most prominent propagators of class consciousness, but it is something to get rid of Goldman and Berkman.

Italy has finally brought D'Annunzio to terms, accepting all the territory he seized and being glad to get it.

Wonder if the revenue fellows will let the museums keep any relics of the other times.

The French national garment might become popular here if the price were raised.

When we get going Mexico will not need bull fights to give it excitement.

When the pound sterling gets within reach of all nobody will want it.

Backward Glances
FORTY YEARS AGO
Dec. 18, 1879.—Changing to a venue, in the court, Mrs. Morgarty's murder case will not be tried until the second week in February.—The First ward is to feel a revival in trade. A new grocery store has been built in the residence district and the colored folk are to build their new church not far from it.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
Dec. 18, 1889.—An amusing story has been clipped from a Chicago paper. It says that, while registering at a Chicago hotel, Rev. E. M. McGinnity, of Janesville, heard the clerk whistling "Down Went McGinnity." He laid down the pen and walked out of the hotel, as he says that the new song has caused him no end of trouble.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Dec. 18, 1899.—Sheriff Appleby and Dr. E. D. Roberts have purchased what are known as the Wilcox sand hills on South Main street. They do not state what they intend to do with them, but they will probably open several new sand-pits.—Mamie Lulu, the young girl who was injured a few days ago, at the St. Paul yards, is still hanging between life and death.

TEN YEARS AGO
Dec. 18, 1909.—A Hyatt Smith was severely scorched about the face and hands yesterday at the Sugar Beet factory. He will recover.—Howard Baack, Louis Gage and J. E. Reed, the latter of Madison, have leased a building on Main street and will open a garage there the first of March.—The thermometers showed ten below last night.

How Did Grampa Know He Carried the Makin'!

Earth Has Young Face
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN, Director
Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau,
Washington, D. C.

Washington, Dec. 18.—The astounding discovery made by a world-famous engineer to the British Association for the Advancement of Science that a small, but powerful, volcano exists in the heart of the earth, is a discovery of the greatest importance. It is a discovery which has opened up a new field of research, and has shown that the earth is not a dead, lifeless body, but a living, breathing organism, with a young face.

While British science has been debating that point, an American body, the National Geographic Society of Washington, has made rapid strides in the study of the composition of the earth's surface. The result of its expeditions to the Mt. Katmai region in Alaska, has just returned. In that area there are nature-made shafts—volcanoes—which already have revealed hidden secrets of Mother Earth. There is also a field of missing vapors, hundreds of degrees above the boiling point, popularly known as the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes.

Set aside by Wilson, the volcano which has just come back is the largest and best equipped yet sent to Mt. Katmai. Dr. Robert J. Griggs, who was in charge of these expeditions, has returned with a wealth of information about the interior of the earth, and the National Geographic Society has just received the results of his study.

The great scientific value of the region lies in the fact that it affords an opportunity to study the mysterious natural processes by which the earth became habitable. For this entire volcanic field is an isolated patch on the surface of the earth, where, through backward physical process, that surface still is in the making. This region, in a word, is a bit of the earth that existed long before man had appeared.

Chemists, geologists, zoologists, and various other scientists, who made up the expedition are now preparing their reports. There are two aspects of the expedition's work, revealed in these reports, which are of marked general interest.
A preliminary report shows that the region north of the national monument area, and therefore of great interest to sportsmen and scientists.

Motion Pictures Tell Story.
The first of the expedition's work was to take extensive motion picture photographs; so that it brings back material not only for the study of the interior of the earth, but also for the study of the life of the region. A heavy piece of wood, which was used in the study of the interior of the earth, was found to be a piece of wood, which was used in the study of the life of the region.

The Shimmy and Shake of old Mother Earth at La Crosse turns out to have been caused by dynamite blasting carried on by the La Crosse Housing corporation anxious to get up houses before spring time. Yet a learned professor had figured it out as resulting from the cold weather.—Appleton Crescent.

ON THE SPUR of the MOMENT
ROY K. MOULTON
A LITTLE SLICE OF LIFE
Twas a wild and stormy day.
An anxious crowd stood
In the street gazing upward,
When suddenly a woman appeared
In a fifth story window.
And stood about in terror.
At an adjacent window
Appeared a man with a knife.
When she saw him glancing
At her she shrieked.
And the crowd below gasped.
Slowly the man emerged from
The window and felt his way
Along the cornice.
Far above the street,
Toward her window,
Inch by inch he crept along.
And she stared at him as though Fascinated.
Finally she roused herself
And, determined to escape him
At any cost,
She clasped her hands before her
And jumped, down, down, down,
To the street below.
The crowd gathered round.
"Stop!"
A sharp voice split the air.
"You'll have to do
That all over again, Lizzie!"
Said the movie director.
"You were out of focus."

THE INCOME TAX.
In order to lighten the burden of the income tax, patients who have usually been obliged to retire from their usual occupations for a month or more, have been allowed to work for another month to fill it out, we offer the following advice:
First get a large scratch pad and a half dozen lead pencils, a good penholder and two dozen steel pens and a quart of ink. Then go and collect all the wrapping paper in the house and buy three more large scratch pads and you will be ready for work.

Then fill out your blank. After spelling this one write to the collector of internal revenues for another and wait until it comes. While you are waiting you can to a few trial flights with the figures.
First take the amount of money you have received during the year, if you can find out what it is, and subtract the amount of your income tax. The result will be the amount of money you have left. Then take the amount of money you have left and subtract the amount of your income tax. The result will be the amount of money you have left.

PETTY LARCENY.
Dear Roy:
I stole a kiss the other night.
My conscience hurts, black
I think I'll go again tonight.
And put the darn thing back.
—Bobby Spec.

ASK US
The Gazette maintains an information bureau at Washington, D. C., under the direction of Frederic J. Haskin. Questions will be answered on any subject. Those desiring information, may write to the Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau, Washington, D. C., and enclose a stamp. The letter will be answered by the bureau.
Q. Whom did Pocahontas marry, and how many children did she have?
A. Pocahontas was married to John Rolfe in 1614, with whom she went to England. There she was received with great enthusiasm as the daughter of an American king. Pocahontas and Rolfe had one son, Thomas, who, after living for many years in England, migrated to Virginia. From him descend the prominent Virginia families, including Mrs. Woodrow Wilson's family, trace their descent.

Q. What exemption is a single man with a dependent mother allowed in making out his income tax returns?
A. A single man residing in the same house with his mother, who is entirely dependent upon him, is allowed $2,000 exemption, the same as a married man.
Q. When was the coldest New Year's day on record?
A. The United States weather bureau says that the coldest New Year's day recorded since the bureau commenced to keep records, 45 years ago, was Jan. 1, 1851. On this day the thermometer registered 14 degrees below zero in Washington, and much lower in many other places.

Q. Can you tell me the shortest famous letter ever written?
A. There have been a number of letters written by famous men, one of which was that of the French statesman, Talleyrand, to a certain woman having written to Talleyrand informing him of the death of her husband, he replied: "Dear Talleyrand—Your devoted Talleyrand." Another woman wrote to Talleyrand of her wedding, to which his reply was "Ho! Ho!"
Q. Who supplies the mail boxes on a rural delivery route?
A. The postoffice department says rural delivery is that each patron shall erect a box at his own expense, which must conform to postal regulations.

Q. Who said: "It is not surprising that America should produce great men, since she can boast of such mother?"
A. This remark was made by a French general on visiting the presence of Mary Washington, mother of the first president of the United States.
Q. What is the proper dress for men at a noon or afternoon wedding?
A. L. W. K.
Q. How many guests at a formal noon wedding should wear the conventional afternoon dress, consisting of black frock coat, waistcoat of light color, vest of white pique or one matching the coat, patent leather shoes, gray gloves and a silk hat.
A. How much time is wasted by people looking at themselves in mirrors?
S. W.
Q. A German statistician has figured it out that the average woman spends 10 months of her life admiring herself before a mirror. She begins, as a rule at the age of six, in which year she devotes seven minutes daily to self-inspection. The amount of time so spent increases steadily for 10 or 15 years. Her vanity is less pronounced after 30. This same statistician figured that a man is less vain, as he only spends seven months in his life before a mirror.

An Opportunity to Own Shares of Montgomery Ward & Co.
(Incorporated)
Common Stock
Large growth and greatly increased earning possibilities are apparent for the common stock shares of this old established mail order house.

If the chain store business, now being discussed in connection with the mail order business of Montgomery Ward & Co., develops to the extent possible, the profits derived from this source alone should add to the income of the company profits many times greater than the present sum total from all departments of the mail order business.
But, without figuring any revenue from the chain store business, we believe the company will continue to double its business every few years as it has done in the past, and it is reasonable to expect that gross sales and profits will multiply even more rapidly than in the past for the following reasons:

1. Large amount of additional money in the community's treasury.
2. Addition of other very able merchants to the board.
3. Great prosperity of the farmer and the country in general.

We therefore believe that those who purchase and hold Montgomery Ward & Co. common stock will continue to profit from it as handsomely as in the past if not much more so.

Write for Circular
We can give you excellent service in this or any other security. We will quote close markets and buy Montgomery Ward & Co. common stock for you outright or on the installment plan. Write us for circular and details.

EXTRA PERIOD TO DECIDE EVANSVILLE HIGH CHAMPIONSHIP

(By Staff Correspondent.)
Evansville, Dec. 17.—The senior basketball team has won the championship of the high school. The final game of the tournament was played on Monday evening.
The Senior-Freshman game was one of the fastest inter-class contests ever played here. An extra period was necessary to decide it. Captain Cain's Fresh played so effectively and kept their men so well covered that until the last eight minutes of play they threatened to win. First half ended 5 to 4 in favor of the Freshmen and remained a tie up to the close of the game. Five extra minutes were added and the game went to the Seniors when Punk tossed a free throw on a foul made by Cain, making the score 15 to 14.
The Juniors triumphed over the Sophomores 15 to 2. McMurray, big Junior center, was responsible for six baskets. Porter, right forward, made one, and Blunt, left forward, a free throw. Ellis scored the only field goal for the Sophs.
Roberts scored four baskets for the Fresh; Libby, one; Barnum, one; Cain, one. For the Seniors, L. Roberts made four; Hockett, two; Baird, senior star, one; Funk, one free throw. Cain's spirit is at white heat and will be plentifully demonstrated when the regular team meets the American Legion tomorrow night.

BAN JOHNSON HITS REBELS IN BULLETIN

New York, Dec. 13.—A bulletin from Ban Johnson, president of the American league, announcing that resolutions adopted by the old board of directors of the league last Wednesday morning had been rescinded by the newly elected board was received yesterday by the New York club.
The resolutions adopted by the old board asked for an investigation of Johnson's conduct as president-secretary-treasurer of the league, the nature of his contract with the league, and also awarded third place money to New York in the pennant race. The new board was elected at the league's annual meeting.

News Notes From Movieland

BY DAISY DEAN

Pearl White is shown here presenting a copy of her autobiography, "Just Me," to Vicente Blasco Ibanez, the eminent Spanish author who is now touring this country. She put this inscription on the fly-leaf: "From the worst author in the world to the greatest." In return Ibanez presented the Fox star with a copy of his book, "The Four Horsemen of Apocalypse," in which he inscribed "To the most celebrated screen actress in the world."

The Spanish writer, author of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," "Mare Nostrum" and other works that have gained enviable popularity in America, visited the Fox star at her beautiful Long Island home overlooking Little Neck Bay. The novelist had expressed a wish to meet Miss White because, he said, she is the most popular motion picture actress in Europe and South America. He is deeply interested in the screen and one of the objects of his visit to this country is to arrange for having his works filmed.

LINDER COMES BACK

Max Linder is back in photoplay again. The little French comedian, the first to gain signal fame in serendipity, is headed for Los Angeles where he will re-engage in the making of comedies of characteristic trend. Linder was a Pathé star originally, and came to this country to make American productions. After serving in the war and sustaining severe wounds, ill health forced him to abandon his attempt. He is said to have fully recovered from his disabilities, and to be ready to engage anew in his fun-making.

"FRECKLES" DEDICATED TO BARRY

CLIFF HESS, who wrote "Huckleberry Finn," the song hit of a few years ago, now comes out with a similar melody which he names "Freckles," and which is dedicated to Wesley Barry, the 12-year-old boy star of Marshall Nathan Productions. The song, which is now being sung in the east by Nora Bayes, Rae Sam-

Vicente Blasco Ibanez, famous Spanish writer meets Pearl White, the former motion picture serial star.

Zbyszko Throws

New York, Dec. 17.—Whalek Zbyszko defeated Nicolaj Petroff, announced the Russian Lion, Monday after forty-eight minutes of grappling. The Polish grappler, evidently deciding that he had worked long enough with his rival, suddenly picked Petroff bodily from the floor and crashed him to the mat, where the "Russian Lion's" shoulders were pinned for the full. A crowd of about 1,500 witnessed the match.

Trophy for Courtesy and Discipline Goes to Sheboygan

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Madison, Dec. 13.—The Chase trophy awarded for the highest marking in courtesy and discipline in the Ninth infantry during the state encampment, is to be awarded to Company H, Sheboygan. Orders making the award will be issued from regimental headquarters at Appleton by Col. H. E. Pomeroy. This trophy next year will revert back to the national guard. The companies in the competition were Appleton, Neenah, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Oconto, Manitowish, Green Bay, Sheboygan, Marshfield, Grand Rapids, Marinette and Stevens Point.

ROYAL PORTER

London, Eng.—A story is going the rounds about one of the volunteer porters at Paddington during the recent railway strike, who went to the porters' room to state that was unavoidably prevented from taking his turn at duty. When the foreman, a loyal member of the staff, pressed him for his reasons, the volunteer explained that he was lord-in-waiting to the king, who was shortly expected to arrive in London.

AIR RAID XMAS TOY

London, Eng.—War inspiration has played its part in the invention of this year's Christmas toys which are being exhibited now, as was the pre-war custom, in the Toyeries, Park, where prizes are awarded to those who judge the best. One game, called "Alerte," is played with dice, and a throw may place an obstacle between the Pariah on the board and the cellar to which they rush for safety at the sound of the siren.

Heart and Home Problems

By ELIZABETH THOMPSON
Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young married woman and have two children. I have been married three years and have a good husband, but I do not care for home life anymore. We never quarrel and he makes a good living for me and gets me nice things.

I have no fellow friends to cause me to turn from home, but I long to get away from home duties and be alone once more. I have told him I do not love him, but he worships the ground I walk on and begs me to stay with him.

I long to go to dances again, but he does not dance and isn't willing to take care of the children so that I can go. He offers to take me to other places of amusement.

BROWN EYES.
If you are not careful, selfishness will ruin your life. You have the greatest requisites for happiness, a loving husband and little children, but you are willing to sacrifice them for pleasure that is but a moment.

Forget about your own desires and if you cannot find pleasure in living others. Do you realize the great task of bringing the best out of your children. There is much written about children nowadays which you ought to find most interesting. Ask the physician to suggest some of the psychology of child development. This will give you plenty to think about and will help you to forget dancing. Surely you can give your children more pleasure for your husband's sake.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am deeply in love with a young man two years my senior. About ten months ago he went away, promising faithfully to write, but I haven't received any mail from him. I have plenty of other boy friends who would take me any place I want to go, but the one that is away is the only one I care for. You say you think he has given me up, as it has been so long and he hasn't written. I know his mother well. Would it be all right to phone her and ask if she has heard from him?

SANDALS ON.
Do not telephone the boy's mother. He knows your address and will write when he feels an inclination to. Since he shows such indifference, it would be unwise for you to follow him up, showing that you are deeply interested. You may hear from him yet.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married woman. About fifteen months ago my husband and I parted, on account of being too friendly with a neighbor. Since then I have worked and taken care of myself.

For the last six months he has been asking me to come and live with him. I feel that I cannot. Every time he comes to see me I dread to meet him, but at the same time I feel sorry for him. I do not love him and he does not love me. He said he married me for a housekeeper, but he has given me a nice home.

We have no children. Every time I think of going back to him and my home I am miserable. Do you think I ought to stay just as I am? My husband hasn't given me a cent since I left him. Do you think I could get a divorce? TROUBLED.

Since you do not love your husband you should not return to him. It is impossible for me to say whether or not you have cause for a divorce. The only way for you to be sure is to talk the matter over with a lawyer. I would advise you to stop seeing your husband. As long as you do not want to go back to him, he should be made to realize at once that his cause is hopeless.

She Married an Average Man

By ZOE BECKLEY.

I have been so occupied lately in falling in and out of love, regarding my balance and hammering at my work during every available moment, that I have not watched Jim closely, or perceived that he is struggling with his own problems.

"You look tired out, Jim," I observed when he came home tonight. He made a sudden effort to look cheery and animated. It was a painful failure. "Oh, no, I'm not particularly tired," he answered. His manner puzzled me.

"Jim!" I said, firmly. "Tell me more about your work at the office. You hate it, don't you, dear? Hate working as an employee. I mean. It irks you, doesn't it?"

He remained silent, cutting the leaves of a magazine in a preoccupied way. I put a finger beneath his chin and deliberately raised his face so that I could look into his eyes.

"Why don't you go to work with me, Jimmie? Husbands and wives should be pals. I'm willing to be a pal. But you always shut me out from your heart, somehow, and make me feel helpless when I so sincerely want to help, and really believe I could."

"Oh, it's nothing, Ann," he replied, awkwardly. "It's so hard for Jim to take any one into his confidence, especially a woman." That sickness of mine took the pep out of me. I felt like a little blue bird. Everybody gets blue once in a while.

This did not satisfy me. Looking back, I realized that Jim has never been himself since Charles Pelton disappeared with that money. The snook of it, as well as the actual loss of his capital, caused Jim to lose his grip. It weakened his confidence in himself. The sudden realization of this electrified me. Good men go down to failure every day through this losing of their grip. Their ability goes to pieces. The thing is psychological.

I studied Jim as he sat there in the twilight. I tried to penetrate the invisible wall which always seemed between us. Tried to get the true Jim, the man within that plug shell of a body, and comprehend what was passing in his mind and soul.

Sometimes this Jim Salsbury who has been my husband for more than a year seems a stranger. Something about him eludes me. I wonder if other wives ever have this odd sense of strangeness and inaccessibility? What causes it? How can it be broken down?

"Jim, you old darling," I laughed, suddenly, grasping at anything to end the uncomfortable silence. "You act as if you had fallen in love with me. I haven't any blunderbuss or were contemplating a raid on the company's strong box."

To my amazement, Jim looked startled. He shot a quick glance at me and noted my guilelessness, and rose abruptly with a short unalloyed laugh.

"We haven't any blunderbusses," he said, rather superfluously, I thought. "Don't be silly, Ann. Come on, let's have a cocktail before dinner."

If I was puzzled before, I was twice as puzzled then. Without any reason whatever, the thought of Mrs. Frisbie shot into my mind. (To be continued.)

Having once caught a cold which rendered him unable to speak for a week and prevented him from saying "I will" at his own wedding, thus breaking up the whole affair, Hezekiah Dobb was very careful about himself ever after.

A little smoke in the sky looked like rain clouds to Hezekiah, so he always carried his umbrella and the rest of his rain togs.

Two men glided noiselessly down the street, hugging to the shadows and sneaking up alleys when anyone came along.

Suddenly one tugged at the other's sleeve. "This looks like a good one," he said, meaning a stout, well-dressed man walking briskly down the street. "Look how his pockets bulge, will you? A rich one, I'll say."

"Sh-h! I'll jump out in front and grab him!" "Sure, an' I'll wait him in back."

"All right, Now!"

With one blow of the lead pipe, the victim of the highway was laid flat. His pockets, fat and full, were ready to be rifled.

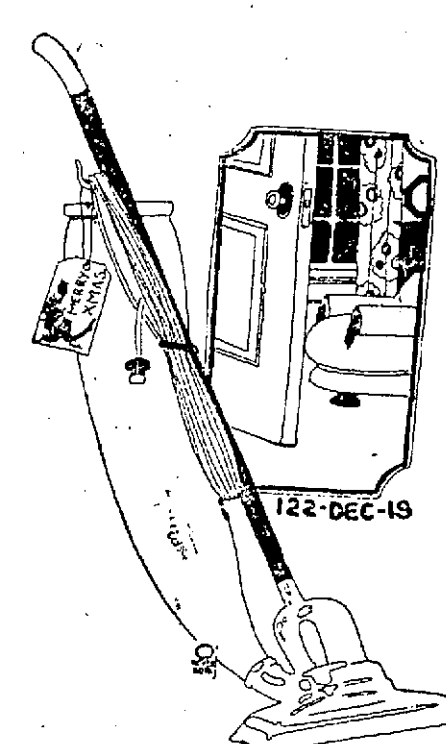

Heck! What a prize!

But suddenly the air was heavy with outlaws. The clock in the church steeple held up its hands in horror as it listened and struck 12.

Walking away, and cursing each other as they went, were the two bandits—all their trouble gone for naught, for their victim was merely Hezekiah Dobb and the bulge in his pockets was not money, or bonds, or anything like that. No, it was shoes. They were just his over shoes, ready for use on a rainy day.

Health Talks

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Written answers are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters are read and by mail if space is not in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

GOOD HORSE SENSE FOR SYPHILIS.

Here is part of a letter from a correspondent who has locomotor ataxia, which, in this case, is probably due to siphylis:

"Three years before marriage I got the chancre (the primary sore of siphylis) excised and received internal mercurial treatment for a period which I now realize was all too short. Then I took a vigorous course of treatment from Dr. — or — clinic, and for a year have been getting negative Wassermann reactions. The spinal fluid tests have become negative some time before that. The treatment consisted of four courses, six injections of each course of salvarsan and mercury. However, as a kind of life insurance, as Dr. — puts it, I am to take a course of mercurial injections every year."

The physician whose name I have deleted is one of the most competent authorities on siphylis. Note that he does not assume that the siphylis finally cured merely because the blood and spinal fluid Wassermann tests have become permanently negative. The doctor still advises the patient to resume mercurial treatment for a time every year—for life.

Note that the doctor, although an advocate of the newer anti-siphylitic drugs—the arsenic-compounds mentioned—has abiding faith in the old standby, mercury, to which the patient is counseled to return year after year, as "life insurance."

There are other instructive things in the correspondent's letter worth mutual discussion. I can suspect his identity, for he has purposely written a few lines.

At various times I have expressed here my personal opinions about siphylis and its treatment, which opinions are not shared by the majority of physicians. I have said that I would prefer the older mercurial and other remedies to the newer arsenic-compounds (so-called 606, salvarsan, or, as it is properly called in this country, arsenamine or neosalvarsan) if I were to treat siphylis. And I have said that in my opinion we cannot think of siphylis as ever being cured, in the sense that its last vestige has been eradicated. The disease may be arrested, like tuberculosis, by vigorous treatment, and it may never again become manifest. Remember, this is merely my opinion, and on the view of most physicians with much more experience along this line than I have had. It would seem that the very excellent physician the correspondent consulted holds some similar view, though to my knowledge he has never expressed such a view.

The correspondent's statement also answers a query which is frequently put to me: The blood test may be negative (Wassermann reaction negative) although the spinal fluid is positive. The patient may have siphylis in an active stage, although the Wassermann blood test is negative. The Wassermann test is a guide only. The physician's individual opinion is the final test and the only safe one to rely upon.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Nerve Specialists.
Would you kindly recommend to me a nerve specialist who would treat me for a reasonable fee each week, as I am making only fifteen dollars a week and cannot pay heavily? (25)

ANSWER.—No. It would not be kind of me to suggest a nerve specialist for you. A nerve specialist is sometimes a great help, and if your physician feels that the advice of such a specialist may be profitable to you he will tell you so and refer you to the specialist who would be likely to help you. It isn't a matter of fees. There is no reason why a nerve specialist should not temper the wind as every honest doctor strives to do in daily practice. It is merely a question of your best interest. Nearly all of the troubles patients call "nervous" are due to conditions outside of the nerve specialist's province. Try a good doctor.

Marinette.—Hereafter disabled soldiers of Marinette will be cared for at St. Joseph's hospital. A contract has been signed with the sisters by the government to care for the men. Heretofore the soldiers have been sent to government hospitals.

Shakespeare's "Seven ages of man" pay tribute to Horlick's Malted Milk

In these interesting extracts from letters to us the story is told:

1st Age. "First the infant in the nurse's arms"

"Words fail to express how grateful I am to Horlick's Malted Milk. My babe was given up; it was said she would not live through the night. But the next morning it still lived, and while we anxiously watched it, a neighbor persuaded us to try 'Horlick's.' It was like putting oil on the wick of a dying lamp; the snuffed rapidly, and is now the joy of the house."

2d Age. "Then the school boy with his shining morning face"

"I raised two children on 'Horlick's,' and they all love it still. It can't be beat as a nutritious lunch between meals for a growing boy or girl."

5th Age. "And then the justice full of wise saws"

"When I need an invigorator as the result of my work I drink a cup of 'Horlick's.' I have used it constantly for several years, and find it cannot be beat for weak stomachs, as a diet. In fact, it is all that is claimed for it."

4th Age. "And then the lover with his ballad"

"Horlick's growth as a fountain favorite has been marvellous. A constant stream of young couples in the afternoon and evening call for Horlick's Malted Milk, chocolate or plain. 'Horlick's' is a favorite lunch hour drink around universities with the students. A glass making a meal, they find it very economical and healthy."

6th Age. "The sixth age with spectacles on nose"

"I am 60 years old, and consider it a fortunate day when a friend induced me to try a cup of Horlick's Malted Milk. I use it with benefit, and pleasure two or three times a day. It is delicious and has done me a world of good."

7th Age. "Last scene of all that ends this eventful history"

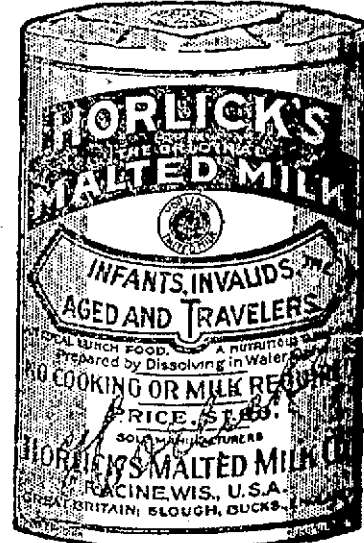

"I could not do without it. It surely is a sleep producer and I am a nervous person, but Horlick's Malted Milk has helped me greatly. I have learned by experience that 'Horlick's' is as excellent for well people as for invalids."

Had Terrible Cough And Night Sweats Cough about gone, cuts and sleeps well, and gained 12 pounds.

"In December, 1912, I had a fearful cough, and my physician ordered me to change climate, immediately I went to San Antonio, Texas, and entered a sanatorium. Last there and came to Oklahoma City, and I had no appetite, could not sleep, had night sweats and was losing from one to three pounds a week. I also had catarrh of the bowels, which the doctors had been unable to relieve.

Doctors urged me to try Milks Emulsion. I did so and began to improve, slowly at first, but steadily, my weight had increased 12 pounds, I have no temperature, and my cough is about gone. I can eat heartily, sleep well, and am working at my trade again."—V. W. Hoff, 610 No. Dewey St., Oklahoma City, Ok.

Nature does wonders in fighting off disease, if given the chance. Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritious food and a powerful, corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural action, doing away with all artificial aids and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. It cures chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day. This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Every bottle and 25c per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Easy to Make This Pine Cough Remedy Thousands of families swear by its prompt results. Inexpensive, and saves cash.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several potent elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—irritated membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it usually in 24 hours or less. Hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment, Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine bark, and it favors the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

a-workin' fer Shunk. I reckon may be yer know the rest." "I know they was run down by the Adventure an' hauled aboard. But how did Kirby learn his prisoner was white? Did she tell him?" "I should say not. It was the nigger cook, who told him, although, I reckon, he hed his doubts afore that, I knew she wasn't no nigger the first minute I got eyes on her—they can't fool me none on niggers; I was raised 'mong 'em. But so fur's the gurl's concerned, she didn't know yet that Kirby's found out." He emitted a weak laugh. "It sorter skeered Joe ter be caught 'way up vere in this knirly, kidnappin' a white gurl. He didn't know what the h—l ter do till I give him a pinter."

"You were the one who suggested marriage?" "Wal, I sed she cudn't do nothing 'gainst him out he was married to her. I thought o' that right away. Yer see this was how it happened: Kirby sed he'd like fer ter marry her, an' I sez, 'Why not, then? There's an old man or a preacher vere at the white one, Blaise, a sorter hanger-on ter one o' them militia companies, what'll do eny d—n thing I tell him to. I got the goods on him, an' he knoed it."

"But she wouldn't marry me," he says, 'yer don't know that gurl.' "Don't? I sed sed sed. 'Wal, then ain't no gurl vere I sed yet that wudn't marry a man if the right means are used. 'How kin sho help herself? Yer leave it ter me.' "And who consented?"

"An' who consented, to after I told him how it cud be done. But Tim he wudn't go in with us, an' thea why we got ter have a drink. Moffett, then other fellers are goin' ter eat now."

"The diversion gave me opportunity for a moment's thought. The plan was a diabolical one, cold-blooded and desperate, yet I saw no certain way of serving Blaise, except by accepting Kirby's offer. I did not know where she was concealed, or how I could lay hands on Kirby. The genial Ralo pushed out a black bottle and we drank together."

"But I don't know her." "Oh, well, I'll introduce her."

"I'm game 'rough, Jack," assuming a familiarity I thought he wud appreciate. "I don't want ter know inter this vere thing without knowin' nuthin' 'bout it. What is it? Yer got lined up fer me ter do?"

"He hed himself to get another liquor drink, an' I was glad to note that the fiery liquor was already beginning to have its effect, increasing his recklessness of speech."

"Wal, he sed, 'I s'pose I s'pose I might as well tell ye first as last. Ther ain't nuthin' fer one o' us ter get kin' her all right. I got ter know 'bout yer first. Are you game?"

"There's the whole o' it." Yer just got ter stay thar with her till Kirby kin git away, without nobody thinkin' in anything 'bout it. It's d—n easy money, fer my notion."

I thought swiftly. There were several questions I wanted to ask but dare not. Kirby, for I must, must arouse suspicion. Thus far the affair had played wonderfully into my hands; if I could maintain my part to the end, there ought to be no reason why the girl should not be saved unharmed. (TO BE CONTINUED.)

Dinner Stories

"You will have to be identified," said the bank cashier. "My friend here will identify me," said the lady.

"Before we were married," she complained, "you always engaged a cab when you took me anywhere. Now you think the street car is good enough for me."

"No, darling, I don't think the street car is good enough for you. It's because I'm proud of you. In a cab you would be seen by nobody, while I can show you off to so many people by taking you in a street car."

"I got tired of his electroplying around." "Why do you mean by that?" "It's more up-to-date than to say he is hanging around."

THE WISHING PLANE

Today I was going to tell more about the early adventures of Jack and Jane on their trip around the world. But, first, I'm going to describe the airplane in which Captain Brave and Ladydear and the children wings of the plane were twice as wide, from one tip to the other, as an ordinary street. There were four of these wings, the wings were the great propeller, which spun around and pulled the airplane through the air. It was driven by a powerful engine. Brave sat while he drove the plane, and where Ladydear and the children sat with him some of the time—were cushioned seats just like those in an auto.

The bottom part of the plane was shaped like a boat and the children soon found that the big plane could come down on top of the water and float along just like a small ship. The boat was fitted up just like a small room. The sides were enclosed and you could look out through windows. There was a small stove, a cute table and even some chairs in the room.

quito rich the rest of their lives. Next, the children and their friends, including Captain Bold and his submarine, went to Beautiful Island, to visit Dr. Cheer, another friend of Captain Brave. At the doctor's home the children found what had given the island its name—wonderful gardens of beautiful flowers of all kinds. Dr. Cheer told the children all about them. Captain Brave took the folks high above the clouds in the airplane at night and Dr. Cheer told the children all about the stars and planets, too.

The natives on the island were strange-looking little brown people. Because of their love for Dr. Cheer these little brown folk gave a big celebration in honor of the children, dancing all their weird dances around a huge bonfire and serving native foods.

ELECTRICITY USE IN INDUSTRY EXPLAINED

A fascinating glimpse of the possibilities of electrical energy as applied to industrial pursuits, and a glance at the achievements of the past, were the subjects of a lecture last evening by Prof. C. A. Culver of Beloit college before the hundred men gathered at the meeting of the Men's Brotherhood meeting of the Central Methodist church. With a statement that future navigation would be controlled by wireless stations and that radio beacons would unerringly point out the right direction of travel to the mariner and also that transoceanic methods of wireless were so improved that they were capable of carrying all the business now done over cables, Professor Culver showed the immense possibilities bound up in this energy. The multiplex telephone was explained showing how many telephonic messages could be sent over long distance lines at the same time. With beacons in the air of apparatus before him, Professor Culver explained electrical energy.

Professor Culver was a major in a signal service corps in the late war. He stated that science had advanced fully 20 years during the war period in the discoveries made and that most of them could be immediately applied to industrial uses.

T. W. Snodgrass sang a couple of selections. A quartette consisting of Elmer Van Tol, George Plater, J. Smith, and Roy Meade gave several vocal numbers.

The Brotherhood had voted to supply the Christmas dinner for the poor of the city during the holiday season, and responding to an appeal made by the president, J. E. Auten, enough money was contributed to provide for the dining of them. A bountiful supper was served at 7 o'clock by Circle No. 8 with Mrs. William Evers as chairman. Mrs. C. E. Moore had charge of the dining room.

Around the State

Ashtabula.—At W. Wright, county agricultural agent, has purchased 42 head of Guernsey cows for the Chiquamegon Guernsey association, which was formed at Ashtabula recently. Mr. Wright wired from Southville, Ohio, and a check for $16,500 was sent him in payment of the purchase. Mr. Wright said that he would purchase the balance at Port Atkinson if necessary, but as the purchase is only three cows short of the requisite number more will be bought now. The better cow plan at Ashtabula includes in its membership a large percentage of cattle owners in the Chiquamegon district and the Holstein breeders' association and the other associations for better stock are rapidly spreading and scrub stock from the upper lake country. The Holstein breeders have been organized five years or more.

Milwaukee.—Of the 17 Wisconsin counties displaying potatoes at the Wisconsin potato show, Oconto county, where the Golden Leaf place in 1918, was awarded first prize for the most perfect potatoes in point of size, color, shape, freedom from disease, and quality. It scored 93.1 percent.

Barron county was given second place with 92.3 percent, and Oconto county took third place with 92.1 percent. None of the counties scored less than 80.0 percent.

The other counties were rated as follows: Waupaca, 91.1; Price, 90.3; Lincoln, 89.3; Shawano, 89.6; Marinette, 88; Kewaunee, 87.8; Sawyer, 85.1; Vilas, 85; Forest, 84; Langlade, 83.2; Taylor, 82; Chippewa, 81; Dunn, 84.61; Washburn, 80.

Manitowoc.—At a banquet given to former service men by the Ladies auxiliary of the Elks, at which 300 service men were present and G. A. R. members were guests of honor, Henry Schmidt, commander of the post of the G. A. R., recalled the fact that the evening was the date of the return of Manitowoc militia company from service in the Civil war, fifty-five years ago. The trip was made by boat. The veterans were met by a band and given a dance and reception at the Elks club hall. The weather was identical with that of this year, cold and stormy. The selection of the fifty-fifth anniversary date was a coincidence and not arranged and but for the presence of the G. A. R. veterans at the banquet would have passed unmarked.

Eau Claire.—Miss Mabel Buckstaff, Oshkosh, employed at the Mulrdate sanatorium in Milwaukee, inspected Mr. Washington tuberculosis sanatorium with a view to installing vocational therapy. Within two or three months such work will be established in all similar institutions in the state. One teacher will direct the work of Marathon, La Crosse and Eau Claire counties. Toy and yewen making have been developed to such an extent in the Milwaukee institution, Miss Buckstaff said, that the work is self-supporting.

Madison.—Mrs. Anna Grant Birge, 58, wife of President E. A. Birge of the University of Wisconsin, died Sunday of heart trouble in her home here, where she resided 35 years. Mrs. Birge, born in New York, May 4, 1851, was the daughter of Peter Grant, native of Scotland.

Madison.—The physical training of the youth of America, without cost to the individual or school, is the plan for the building of the future military policy of the country proposed to the state military committee by Gen. George H. H. Howland. His plan calls for one hour of physical training a day in the grade schools. The only equipment he considers necessary is a standard uniform which would be required. No effort would be made to compel a school to take up the drill, but those that do will receive federal aid.

Madison.—The table of organization for the new national guard company shows a plan for training the service man to become a non-commissioned officer as soon as the company is organized. When an infantry company is organized for federal recognition the following must have been provided for on the rolls: One captain, one first lieutenant, second lieutenant, first sergeant, mess sergeant, supply sergeant, six sergeants, 11 corporals, mechanic, two cooks, two buglers, 12 privates, first class, 46 to 50 privates.

Madison.—The effect of being fagged is now being shown among the many deer hunters of the state and for tuberculosis as there are for wounds and nearly all the tuberculosis cases. The figures, showing a total of $30 drawing state aid are: Battle wounds, 118 or 39 percent; tuberculosis, 99 or 27 percent; (not tubercular), 44 or 11 percent; rheumatism, 11 or 3 percent; mentally deranged, 40 or 14 percent.

Eau Claire.—Development of an extensive marsh near Bloomer for farming lands in the older sections of this vicinity where clover and peas are raised is being started. Tests are being made by Prof. A. R. Whitson, soils department, University of Wisconsin. He has found that the marsh runs very high in lime carbonate which many farmers are having shipped from long distances at considerable expense.

Eau Claire.—Hereafter the farmer must work smaller farms, says John W. Thames, prominent farmer of this county. The difficulty of the difficulty in securing farm labor, he points to his own situation. He has 251 acres of fine tillable land, a part of which has not been plowed for four years. Mr. Thames does not see any solution to the problem. He suggests that the owners of large farms sell part of them or in proportion to the labor he has. Some farmers, he said, should reduce their holdings to 40 acres, others to 35 acres, as a 160 acre farm is too large for most farmers.

Monroe.—Since July 1 there have been only three cases in police court. Police Magistrate M. E. Baltzer states. In the same period last year, a dull season because of the war, there were 16. Unless business picks up soon, Mr. Baltzer states, the office of police magistrate will be closed among the nonessentials. When Mr. Baltzer took the office, police court duties were so numerous it was found advisable for him to give up his justice of peace practice.

Eau Claire.—By planting three acres of sugar beets on the farm, Supt. T. H. Moore of the Dunn county asylum near Menomonie, secured enough sugar to last a year. Thirty-five tons of beets were sent to the sugar factory at Chippewa Falls and 3,500 pounds of sugar was received. Many farmers are planning planting small fields of sugar beets and having them converted into sugar for their personal use.

Appleton.—This city's most distinguished soldier is Sergt. Elmer R.

Rohn, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rohn, just discharged from service. He frequently drove Gen. Pershing's car in France, was in the service two years and seven months and served in eight different divisions. He has not been ill a day and was injured only once when he was thrown off his motorcycle while carrying dispatches. Rohn also served with Company G on the Mexican border.

A few copies of the New World Atlas can be obtained at the Gazette office at 25 cents per copy.

FIRST COW TESTING REPORT IS MADE

An average of 1,046 pounds of milk per cow and 35 pounds of butterfat is shown in the first report of the Edgerton Cow Testing association. Production, based upon 10 cows, runs from 1,521 pounds of milk and 54.7 pounds of butterfat for G. W. Hayslock "Chick" to 855 pounds of milk and 34 pounds of butterfat for Ray Hayslock's "Whitewater." Two pure-bred Holsteins, one pure-bred Shorthorn, five grade Holsteins and two grade shorthorns are represented. The average age of the cows is five and a quarter years.

This report shows up well with those of other counties of the state and other states, where cow testing has long been in use.

An effect of cow testing is the development of home bred cattle. Unprofitable cows, known as scrubbers, are weeded from the herd. Sentiment is forgotten and performance records substituted. A minimum standard of production of 850 pounds of milk and 35 pounds of butterfat keeps the records high.

German Protest Use of Polish Language Entirely

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Berlin, (By Mail).—The union of German people in Poland has issued a protest against the sudden introduction of Polish as the sole official language in all territorial districts which were formerly Prussian. The union demands that both languages shall be employed in public affairs at least for a few years during the period of transition, and it expresses the hope that its desire in this respect will be supported by the entente and by neutrals.

Free 1920 Calendar

A free 1920 calendar is waiting for every reader of the Janesville Gazette.

It is waiting despite the fact that the output of the entire printing industry is uncertain.

Never since printing grew to modern proportions has there been such a scarcity of paper or such high prices, and this still further complicates the situation.

Because of these difficulties there will not be enough free calendars this year to go around.

We have made sure, however, that none of our readers may suffer the inconvenience of doing without a calendar. We have procured from the navy department a special edition of art calendars. On these calendars there is a picture of Columbia clasping hands with an enlisted man of the navy. The drawing is done by J. C. Leyendecker, one of America's greatest artists. It is reproduced in four colors on heavy cardboard, with a large, serviceable pad. The result is a beautiful and in every way satisfactory product.

These calendars are free as long as they last.

They may be procured through our Washington Information Bureau.
Cut out the coupon below and follow instructions. Give your calendar privilege to Uncle Sam. Let your calendar carry a message of patriotism.
Your copy is waiting for you if you act quickly.

I enclose herewith two cents for return postage for a free copy of the 1920 calendar.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

Miss Jane Addams recently started an audience of physicians by announcing that despite the well-known saying, "Satan finds work for idle hands to do" and "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," that work and hard labor are tending to make Jill a bad girl. Miss Addams explained that while labor and its consequent fatigue rids a person of the physical inclination toward lewd or immoral diversion, that psychologically, the reverse is often the case.
The connection between fatigue and the lowering of moral resistance has not yet been fully worked out, but there is an appalling connection between them is the verdict of Miss Addams, who is always a careful and dependable observer of industrial conditions.

Discussing fatigue and its moral dangers, American Medicine says:
"Miss Addams brings to light a situation of momentous importance;
the unprecedented number of women who have entered the industrial world permanently as a consequence of the demand for labor during the war, and the danger of lowering moral resistance accompanying the increased demand on their energies."
"In England, where women in large numbers flocked to the munition factories early in the war, a serious situation developed in a short time. It was almost immediately apparent that the women, who hitherto had led conventional, circum-scribed lives, were indulging in apalling excesses—excesses of drinking, smoking and immoral practices.
In fact, the immorality of the women munition workers became a serious concern throughout the country. At the end of a difficult day's work, exhausted as they were with their insults, they did not return to their homes. They congregated in the cafes and centers of diversion, spent their money freely and conducted themselves with alarming freedom in their association with men."

Miss Jane Addams.

"Hard work, though it may exhaust the body, often acts as a stimulant to the senses, and if these senses are not properly directed, havoc is bound to result. In this country, unless proper measures are taken, the same problem will confront us as it did in England. Countless women are still occupied in factories and the various industries. For these women there must be found an outlet which will direct their natural desire for relaxation and recreation into approved channels."

ODD BITS ABOUT WOMEN

Householders in Great Britain are barred from entertaining their longer than four weeks by an order of the ministry of food.

Hannah Montague, wife of a blacksmith in Troy, N. Y., made the first detachable collar for men in 1819, and now 200,000 yards of goods are used in a day in that town by a single factory.

All moving picture films produced in Mexico are first censored by two women—Miss Adriana S. Ehlers and Miss Dolores L. Ehlers.

Myo Kobashi, the pioneer newspaper woman in Japan, is now in this country for the purpose of studying English and journalism.

HANOVER CHURCH

Hanover Lutheran: The Sunday school meets for rehearsal at 10:30 p. m. Sunday, English Advent service at 10:30 a. m.
Subject: "The Desire of All Nations."
S. S. at 1:30, followed by rehearsal.
Wednesday, Dec. 24, Christmas evening services at 7:30 p. m. Excellent program by the Sunday school, entitled "The Old, Old Story." German Christmas carols by the congregation. English carols by the S. S. and appropriate recitations. The junior choir takes an active part with some choice Christmas hymns, old and new, duet and chorus, and responsive singing. A silver collection will be taken and there will be the usual presentation of gifts.

Thursday, Dec. 25, Christmas Day.
German service at 10:30 a. m. English service with Holy Communion at 2 p. m. Special collection in both services for relief work in Germany.
There is no question about the need, nor the Christian duty. Open your heart and hand. Christmas is a Christian festival. Not to go to God's house and offer up praises and thanksgiving for His unspeakable gift, the Savior, is a most unsatisfactory, a perfectly meaningless Christmas, no Christmas at all. Make your festival days rejoicing days by making them devotional days. Welcome! P. Peiten, pastor.

LEADERS OF "Y" GYM

CLASS ORGANIZE CLUB
Representatives from various gym classes of the men's department of the "Y" have formed themselves into a leaders' club. A supper and business meeting of the organization will be held at the association building at 6:15 o'clock this evening.
Members of the club are those especially interested in some phase of physical work. They will act as an advisory committee with Director W. P. Crane in regard to physical activities at the "Y."

An address by Dr. Emil Schweig-ler on "Swiss Comesticals" will be the principal talk of the session.
Three new candidates are to be accepted as members at the business meeting which will follow the supper. They are Virgil Jerseld, Lyle
Beard, and A. Beaudine.

Club rooms are to be furnished at the "Y" and a regular time for hiding meetings decided upon. There are 15 members of the club.

Tax Payers Are Ready:

$3,000 Collected So Far

Money seems to be plentiful in Janesville this year, according to City Treasurer George Muenchow, who has collected $3,000 in taxes

since the beginning of the annual collection Monday up to date. Although Jan. 31, 1920 is the last day of the collection period, Mr. Muenchow urges property-owners who can to pay their assessments now and
"avoid the rush" in January.

Business Boom in Japan
Decreases Exodus of Labor

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Tokio (By Mail).—The number of Japanese laborers going abroad, mainly to South America, has considerably decreased, says a semi-official announcement. This is attributed to the business boom which took place in Japan during the war and which opened up opportunities for industrial and commercial activities here. Emigrants to Peru, where Japanese now go without restriction, number about 1,200 for the present year, a decrease of about 20 percent from last year. Japanese emigrants to Brazil thus far this year total 2,500 as compared to 3,000 during a corresponding period last year. The statement asserts that "Japanese emigrants in South America have received an enthusiastic welcome everywhere since the beginning of the war which stopped the coming of Europeans."

First German Steamship to Resume Oversea Service

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Berlin, (By Mail).—The Hamburg-American line is about to employ the newly acquired steamship Daefisen in the service which it has started in cooperation with the American Kerr line for trade with West India and Mexico, it is announced. The Daefisen will be the first German steamship to resume the regular over-sea service.

PERSONETTE

"MAC" Is a waiter and a gentleman. Every member of the National Press club in Washington, where this old darter is employed, will affirm this statement heartily. His dignified humility, his courtly manners, the deep-seated little chuckle and shrug with which he expresses any reminiscence about himself have all won him a unique place in the regard of the many newspaper men he serves. Mac's reminiscences are well worth listening to. Before the war he was owned by Samuel MacDowell Moore of Rockbridge county, Virginia, a neighbor of Robert B. Lee. He went to Sunday school to Stonewall Jackson. When General Lee was buried, in 1870, it was Mac who led the general's white charger, Traveler, in the funeral procession.

Every week Mac goes to pay his respects to Miss Sally Moore, the daughter of the man who owned him. Mac is an especially merry man at this time of the year. He has five children, all of whom live in California, and all of whom come all the way across the continent to see him every Christmas.

The venerable darter, among other accomplishments, as an ardent religiousist. Either as exhorter or worshipper he has not missed church a single Sunday in 47 years. There are few men who can produce on short notice such a high grade of religious oratory. His remarkable command of English is well known to everyone at the Press club. Every once in a while some bumpkin young reporter thinks to bewilder Mac with a sentence composed out of the exuberance of a growing vocabulary. But he always gets in return a volume of mellifluous and polysyllabic ponderosities which leaves him gasping in need of a dictionary.

PRAYER BOOKS, Rosary Beads, Crucifixes and other religious articles for Christmas gifts for sale at St. Joseph's Convent. Prices very reasonable.

Diaz Loses Three Members Of Cabinet in Vera Cruz

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Mexico City (By Mail).—Felix Diaz lost three members of his cabinet in the state of Vera Cruz recently when Fermin G. Pares, Joaquin Montero and Lidoro Polanco were captured by federal troops. Among the documents taken from them was a circular from Diaz to business men in Jalisco promising that no taxes would be assessed upon them after the Diaz cause had triumphed, if they would now show favor to the Diaz adherents.

San Claire.—Buffalo meat will be offered for sale Christmas for the first time. A butcher has ordered a buffalo from a ranch in South Dakota. He expects to have it on exhibition before slaughtering it. The meat, which resembles beef with a slight game taste, will sell for $1 a pound.

To the American People

IT is the declared purpose of the United States Government to restore the railroads at an early date to the control of their owners.

The Association of Railway Executives represents those upon whom at that time responsibility will again rest for the prompt and successful movement of the country's commerce.

Those constituting this Association are keenly conscious of their accountability to the public.

They have accordingly determined to present as fully as they can, the fundamental facts and considerations which they themselves must face in their efforts to provide satisfactory railroad service.

It is hoped to engage the interest of the whole American people, whose welfare is so vitally dependent upon adequate transportation.

The country can grow only as the railroads grow. The railroad problem must be solved—and solved rightly and soon—if our country is to prosper.

It is to promote that prosperity—permanently and in the interest of the whole people—that railroad executives will present to the public the situation as they see it.

MARKETS

TELEPHONE MARKET SERVICE.
 Our subscribers who are interested in the livestock markets may secure quotations daily between the hours of 1:00 and 2:30, by calling the Gazette Office, No. 77, either phone.

The market report is incomplete today. The Gazette was obliged to go to press half an hour earlier in order to have the papers delivered to outlying towns via automobile.

GRAIN

Chicago Review.
 Chicago, Dec. 18.—Most traders in corn seemed to the opinion today that the market had been overbought, and that a reaction from the recent sharp advance was due. Bearish sentiment was emphasized by lower quotations on hogs and by a fall in British exchange. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/2c to 1 1/4c lower, with January 1 1/4c, were followed by moderate further declines and then by something of a rally.
 Oats tended downward with corn. After opening 1/2c to 1 1/4c lower, they closed 1/2c to 1 1/4c lower, with January 1 1/4c, and May 1 1/4c to 1 1/2c.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING FORMS CLOSE ONE DAY IN ADVANCE OF PUBLICATION.

Several contributing reasons have made it necessary to place classifieds on a day-in-advance basis, which means that all classified advertising should be in the Gazette Office one day in advance of publication.

We are sure everyone will appreciate the situation and cooperate to the best of their ability.

THE GIFT TO ONE THAT ALL ENJOY

CHRISTMAS shopping resolves itself into an effort to please. To give something that will make the recipient happy. Most gifts are of passing pleasure. They lack substance. Many are for the selfish possession of an individual. But The Brunswick is a gift to one that all may enjoy. Moreover, it is the many-year Xmas present.

Brunswick Method of Reproduction

The Brunswick Phonograph is known to music lovers the world over for its marvelous Method of Reproduction.

Play the most difficult selection of any producer. There is noticeable at once a new life, color and beauty of tone hitherto unvoiced.

Everyone who has ever made comparisons knows its superiority. Besides playing better, one's record library is unlimited with The Brunswick.

Heretofore, the machine determined the range of choice. Before The Brunswick came into being one had to forego the pleasure of hearing many good records. All selections—operatic, band, orchestra, jazzes, vocal or instrumental—may be chosen regardless of make.

The Brunswick Method of Reproduction includes two exclusive and scientific features, the Ultona and the Tone Amplifier.

The ULTONA

The ULTONA—a scientific Brunswick creation—is universal in adaptation and simple in structure.

It plays all records infinitely better.

It is not a makeshift contrivance nor so-called combination attachment, but a patent that involves genuine fundamental principles of sound.

With but a slight turn of the hand, it presents the proper needle and diaphragm to any make record. Every artist, every band, every selection, whether foreign or American, may be played at its best on The Brunswick.

The TONE AMPLIFIER

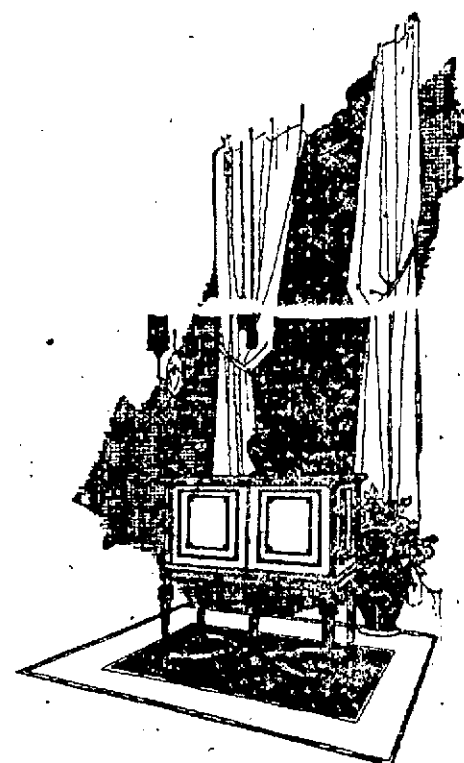

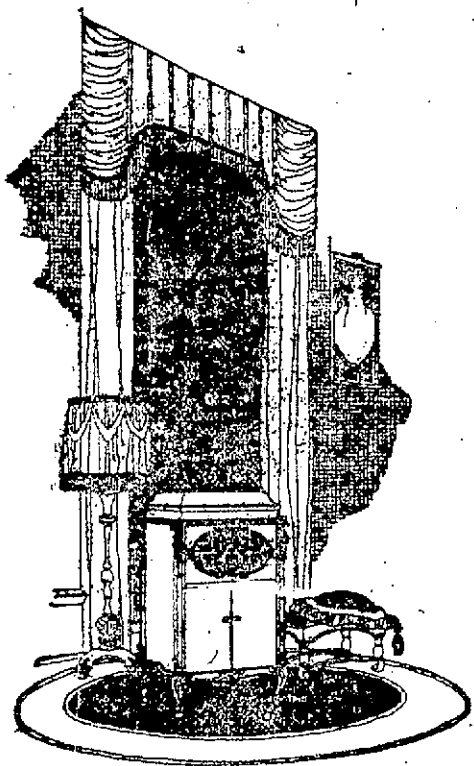

WITH GRILL REMOVED

The TONE AMPLIFIER is part of the Brunswick Method of Reproduction. It solves an old problem in acoustics.

It is oval shaped and moulded of rare hollywood. Like the sounding board of a fine piano, it is built entirely of wood. It is absolutely free from metal.

By this method of projecting sound, tone waves are unrestricted and allowed to unfold into full rounded tones that are rich, mellow and, above all, natural.
